

PHA'S VAUX COMMUNITY CENTER: 2300 W. MASTER ST, PHILA, PA 19121

THE BLACK
FARMERS

EDUCATORS WORKSHOP

SATURDAY, APRIL 13TH
9AM-NOON @ VAUX

TEACHERS – COMMUNITY EDUCATORS – HOME GARDENERS – URBAN FARMERS GETTING READY FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER!!

PLEASE REGISTER BY APRIL 10TH:

<https://forms.gle/zuCUWJqafKEwPh1z8>

One Cool Lecture + Five Workshops

(choose 3, see descriptions on the registration page):

LECTURE: The History of Urban Agriculture – Joseph Harrison, Urban Ag Works

Hydroponics for the Classroom - Levi Joynes, Master Farmer, Nu Minds Nu Earth, Inc.

Navigating Land Acquisition – Ryan Gittler-Muniz, Public Interest Law Center

Sowing Sustainability: Sustainable Gardening – Jovian Patterson, Original American Fdn

Herbal Wellness: Spring Herbal Honey Vinegar – Yaya Vallis, Philly Herb Hub

Sustainable Urban Farming for Home, Schools & Community (with Tour of TGF's' Training AgLab) – Mark & Jamie Green (and Guests), Founders, Think and Grow Farms

Empowering Educators Workshop Series

Event Date: Saturday April 13, 2024 9am-12pm

Event Address: Vaux Community Center (rear) 2300 Master St., Philadelphia PA 19121

Contact us at blackfarmersoutreach@gmail.com

Follow us on Facebook @Blackfarmerscoop

Follow us on YouTube @BlackFarmersCo-op

The Black Farmers Co-op welcomes educators to a transformative workshop series aimed at equipping teachers with practical knowledge and tools to incorporate urban agriculture into their curricula.

Through interactive discussions and hands-on workshops, participants will delve into the rich history of urban agriculture, explore more about hydroponics, aquaponics, herbal healing remedies how to legally acquire land in Philadelphia, and innovative techniques for sustainable gardening.

Agenda:

9:00-9:30 AM: Enjoy a selection of light refreshments and networking

9:30-10:30 AM: History of Urban Agriculture (Key Expert: Mr. Joe Harrison, Urban Ag Works)

10:30-10:45 AM: Quick break

10:45 AM-12:00 PM: Workshops

Space is limited!! Please indicate your 1st, 2nd, and 3rd preferences for workshops.